P. T. A. REPORTS ON SCHOOL LUNCH SET-UP

Bethel PTA met at the Music room in the Primary school building, Tuesday evening with a small attendance due to the thunder showers.

The finance committee reported there would be no activities in April as the May project is to serve a supper to the Eastern Star on their Guest Officers Night, May 5. The Congregational Church kitchen and dining room will be used for this. The supper committee: Sadie Brooks, chairman; Emily Sanderson, Jane Kneeland, Doris Lord, Kate Adams, Edith Rowe, Norma Jodrey, Esther Brown, Marguerite Sumner, Helen Varner will be in charge of the waitresses and dining room. The committee to set up and decorate the tables: Polly Myers, Harriett Noyes, Ada Connor, Helen Roderick, Betty Anderson, Alma Young. All PTA members willing to cook or be solicited for this supper are asked to notify Harriett Noyes as soon as convenient.

The next meeting, May 18, will be the annual meeting with election of officers. The nominating committee is Doris Lord, Blanch Howe, Ada Connor. The program committee is in charge of the program, the hostesses are Mary Chadbourne, Mary Carroll, Ruth Ames.

The hot lunch committee has drawn up a comparison of last year's record and this year's to show how the program has increased and to give all a better idea of the income, expense, etc. Many have said they didn't think it worthwhile to bother with the red tape involved in getting the Federal Aid. We wonder how the majority will feel after reading this report? Do they realize that without it last year the program would have been $134.88 in the red, and this year $134.11 in the red?

Opponents to the program have talked about the number of free meals. That shouldn't concern anyone very much as the Federal Aid reimburses us for every free meal so it doesn't come out of Bethel's pockets, and we hope that people will note that with a larger program this year, having served over 1000 more meals, and the free total is less than last year. The aim of the program is for every child to have the lunch regardless of their ability to pay.

Some of the dishes for the lunch room have already arrived, and the committee hopes to have the room plans completed and work started in the near future.

The meeting adjourned after which Mrs. Noyes introduced Mrs. Phillip S. Lord of Norway, who gave a very interesting talk on Books Especially Children's Books.

A social hour then followed with the hostesses Polly Myers, Helen Roderick, and Betty Anderson serving refreshments.

At West Bethel Olive Head is in charge of obtaining funds and supplies for the project and Marguerite Bartlett does the same at East Bethel. In Newry Carrie Wright, Elizabeth Reynolds and Ruth Bean are working with the committee from Bear River Grange. E. E. Bennett and Mary Ladd.

GOULD OPENS AGAINST NORWAY HERE SAT.

Gould Academy opens its 1948 baseball season Saturday entertaining Norway High on Alumni Field at 2 p. m. The squad has been practicing for some time, when weather has permitted, and are rounding into shape for the opening game. There is a definite scarcity of veterans and also likely looking prospects. The outlook is far from promising but the boys who are out are working hard and perhaps a fair team may be developed before the season ends.

Coach George Bowhay has announced the following probable starting lineup for Saturday's game: Burton Rolfe (c), Dick Marshall (2b), Bob Croteau (3b), Louis Wood (ss), Ronnie Kendall (1b), Bob Hamilton (rf), Dave Bennett (lf), Dick French (3b), and either Richard Rolfe or Ted Young will open on the mound.

Other battery candidates who are out for the team are Norman Lowell and Quentin Hall, pitchers, and Dave Durgin, a catcher. Reserve infielders include Marvin Kendall, Herb Hunt, Guy Emery, Raymond Chase and Dick Douglas. Sterling Haskell and Don Bennett are still in the battle for outfield posts. The illness of Lawrence Bennett, who looked like a sure first baseman, was quite a blow to the team. It looks now as though he will be out for the season.

The team will be sporting new Blue and Gold warm-up jackets, thanks to the kindness of an anonymous donor. The jackets are certainly appreciated in this cold spring weather. It is hoped that the donor may read these lines so he will know that the boys are really enjoying the gift.

The second game of the season finds Gorham, N. H., coming to Bethel on next Tuesday. This mid-week game will start at 3:30. Clarence Todd of Buckfield and Ted Nutting of Otisfield are scheduled to officiate both games.

MARATHON
by GOODYEAR
ONLY $12.40 plus tax 6.00x16

Marathon — the famous money saving tire is back in the Goodyear line — and a better "buy" than ever! Back with the economy, long mileage and safety — the extra value for your dollars that made Marathon the favorite of millions of motorists before the war. Back with more and stronger cords in the rugged tire body for even greater protection against life threatening cuts and punctures.

LONG WEAR — Now specially treated cords and newly compounded rubber make Marathon the tire that runs and runs and runs.

NON-SKID SAFETY — These famous Goodyear diamond blocks really grip the road. You get safer, quicker stops — especially on wet, skiddy roads.

"COMPACTING TREAD" — Inflation forces the sidewalls out against the tread. This reduces tread wear, punctures, bruises and breaks.

For a really sensational "buy" in tires, see us for Marathons today! And remember "new tubes save tires".

MOST of us agree that a spirit of cooperation is what is most needed to make family life harmonious, as well as to make the family an effective training unit for citizenship. But just what do we mean by cooperation? One of the dictionary definitions reads, "Collective action in the pursuit of common well-being." But in actual practice in the home most of us act on the definition once given by an employer to a new assistant. The young man at the end of a trying day had made so bold as to explain that he was doing his best to cooperate. To which the older man bellowed in reply, "Young man, my definition of cooperation is for you to do exactly what I tell you to do, and do it quickly!"

Of course, as parents we must prepare our boys and girls for just such situations as this young employee was up against in the person of a domineering executive. For that matter, there are plenty of situations in life where the safety of great numbers depends upon rigid discipline and exact obedience. But strangely enough, potent as habit is in every other orbit of character formation, the habit of instant obedience to parents does not, as a rule, breed obedience to authority in later life, even if that end were in itself always desirable. For some time, some where, the child who has been tyrannized over at home is going to take out his resentment on some other person or life in general.

So let's go back to the dictionary meaning for the kind of cooperation we seek as parents. And let's begin when our children are babies to set them an example of striving for the common well-being of the family.

To be sure all this is complicated by the fact that the instinct of self-preservation makes thinking of the rights of others a decidedly acquired trait. Fortunately this is offset by the baby's equally instinctive desire to win the approval of those about him. But from his extremely limited vantage point of the cradle, the infant has only one way of learning how to please us, and that is to imitate our attitudes.

I wonder if this isn't why you rarely find a girl being a "lone wolf" in the family, while the role is fairly common to boys. Girls, from babyhood, see their mothers exerting most of their energies in caring for the family so it is natural for them to grow up with a sense of responsibility to the group. But boys, until they are old enough to appreciate the importance of money in the scheme of things, are apt to see their fathers as a little outside the family circle.

Wouldn't it be more logical for fathers to have to explain mothers to small boys? Why wait until manhood to share the camaraderie expressed in the phrase, "After all, son, your mother is a woman—she wouldn't quite understand!"

Seriously enough, if fathers would fit themselves into the warp and woof of the child's everyday existence with the same casualness that mothers do, the resultant tapestry of family life would make a pattern of mutual helpfulness which would be repeated in the child's character.

EASY DOES IT

By HELEN MALE

WHEN you open a can of asparagus, do it at the bottom of the can so that you can slip out the stalks without injuring the fragile tips.

When you bake potatoes, serve as soon as they are done, or you will lose a lot of their precious vitamin C content.

When you handle fish, dip your hands in salt first; then the fish odor will not cling to them so readily. Wash dishes in which you have had fish in vinegar water to remove the odor.

Speaking of fish, you can serve it more effectively if you have an oiled hardwood plank on which to set it. Pipe some mashed potatoes to form a border of rosettes around the fish, then broil, and you have a platter pretty enough to score an immediate victory.

IF YOU SAVE FATS or drippings, store them in a cool place such as the refrigerator to prevent them from becoming rancid.

If you will rub roast chicken inside of the body cavity with lemon juice, you add distinctive flavor as well as tenderizing the chicken.

When washing a bread board, use clear cold water so that any remaining flour will not gum the board.

WHEN WASHING ARTICLES on which there is a fringe, handle gently during laundering so that the fringe does not become knotted. Shake out before hanging and the fringe will not have to be combed. Prevent stored linens from yellowing by placing in an old pillow case which has been dipped in a strong blueing water.

Another good idea for storing white things to prevent them from yellowing is to use a dark tissue-paper.

ARE YOU WASHING WOODWORK that has been painted? You'll find this cleaner excellent: Dissolve a cup white soap flakes in one quart of hot water. Let cool until gelled. Rub in with cup of white oil until gelled. Rub in with a damp cloth. Rinse with a soft cloth wrung out in clear water.

Hallways or other windows too small for curtains will look effective if treated with wallpaper around the frame. For an excellent effect paint the woodwork one of the colors in the wallpaper.
